Course Segments:

- When Words Fail and Bodies Speak: Psychoanalytic Treatment of Eating Disorders
- The Body: Sexed and Gendered
- Our Bodies, Our (Clinical) Selves
- Loosened Links/Broken Bodies, or The Acts of Madness

“The ego is first and foremost a bodily ego...” Sigmund Freud (1923-25), The Ego and the Id and Other Works.

Patients walk into our consulting rooms with a sense of dis-ease. Some can say they are depressed or anxious. Some speak slowly, or unhappily about their relationship with a partner, or their daily work. Some are quiet and can barely use words. All speak through their bodies. The body is the record of early experience, to be encountered in the present clinical moment.

With each patient, the body of the psychotherapist speaks. Is the therapist feeling seduced, disorganized, or deadened after an exchange? Counter-transference experiences anchored in the body of the psychotherapist can help guide clinical thinking and interventions.

This intensive study course will take up various conceptualizations of the body in psychoanalysis. Therapists from a range of theoretical backgrounds will use contemporary texts to explore the psychological development of body-mind. The body that is born, the body that heals and the body that dies, and the territories in between.

ISG INTRODUCTORY EVENT

THE TERRITORY OF THE BODY: Psychoanalytic Conceptualizations of the Psyche-Soma

Instructors: Betsy Kassoff Ph.D.; Audrey Martin, MFT;
Tom Wooldridge Psy.D., ABPP
Location: St. John's Presbyterian Church
2727 College Avenue, Berkeley, CA 94705
Date: Saturday, July 20, 2019
Time: 2:00 – 4:00 pm
Fee: $40 General Public | $30 NCSPP Full Members
$20 NCSPP CMH, Associate and Student Members
$20 Scholarship Rate (approval required)

In this introductory event to the yearlong intensive study groups in San Francisco and the East Bay, we will explore how to work with the territory of the body. We invite you to join our informal, dynamic conversation with Betsy Kassoff, Audrey Martin, and Tom Wooldridge. If you're considering registering for the upcoming ISG in the fall, this introductory conversation is an opportunity to engage with thoughtful community members, enjoy a prelude to the year's ISG, and bring your questions and comments about the topic to the instructors.

In the coming Intensive Study Groups, we will investigate theoretical approaches and practical engagements with the body in the clinical setting. Topics such as gender and culture, self-harm, sexuality, dissociation, and the language of bodily experience will be discussed.

You are welcome to bring your kids, dogs, and family members.

MUTUAL LOVE AS TRAUMA: Implications for Clinical Work

Course

Instructor: Diane E. Donnelly, Ph.D.
CE: 10.5 CE Credits
Location: San Francisco Center for Psychoanalysis (SFCP)
444 Natoma Street, San Francisco, CA 94103
Date: Thursdays, September 12 – October 17, 2019
Time: 7:15 – 9:00 pm
Tuition: $365 General Public | $260 NCSPP Full Members
$230 NCSPP CMH Members | $210 NCSPP Associate Members
$155 NCSPP Student Members | $155 Scholarship Rate (approval required)

Mutual love, while inducing great happiness, weakens higher mental functions and, so, is paradoxically traumatic. We will begin with the clinical observation that experiences of satisfaction, especially when mutual, make people happy but anxious. We will look at a literary example of the traumatic aspect of mutual love, Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter (1850), and consider Freud's two-stage theory of trauma. Next, we will read papers by Freud, Weiss, and Laplanche that shed light on why mutual love is traumatic. Finally, we will examine the clinical implications of this phenomenon, including its ramifications for the therapeutic relationship where, if things go well, mutual love naturally develops. We will discuss how to help patients understand this phenomenon and recognize techniques they can use to cope with it. The goal will be to help them replace self-defeating behaviors with more adaptive ones in the face of mutual love and other significant successes in their lives.

MIRRORING AND THE TRUE GENDER SELF: Tools for Understanding the Transgender and Gender Expansive Child

Workshop

Instructor: Diane Ehrensaft, Ph.D.
CE: 4 CE Credits
Location: SF LGBT Center
 1800 Market Street, San Francisco, CA 94102
Date: Saturday, September 28, 2019
Time: 10:00 am – 2:00 pm
Tuition: $140 General Public | $100 NCSPP Full Members
 $88 NCSPP CMH Members | $80 NCSPP Associate Members
 $60 NCSPP Student Members | $60 Scholarship Rate (approval required)

This is a pivotal time for psychoanalysis to re-tool itself and offer both comprehension and best care to children and youth who experience and express themselves outside our normative gender structures. Dr. Ehrensaft will present the interdisciplinary gender affirmative model of care developed collectively by experts at four major U.S. pediatric gender clinics, including UCSF Benioff Children’s Hospital, where she is Director of Mental Health of the Child and Adolescent Gender Center.

Using clinical material from clinic patients, this course will demonstrate how the tools of psychoanalysis can be linked to the rubrics of the gender-affirmative model to provide optimal care for gender expansive and transgender children and youth, along with their families. Participants will discuss experiences in their own clinical practices and critique the gender affirmative-model as to its potential strengths and weaknesses in providing in-depth psychoanalytically informed treatment of children and youth.

FOUNDATIONS: Klein

Course

Instructor: Margo Chapin, MFT
CE: 9 CE Credits
Location: St. Clement’s Episcopal Church
 2837 Claremont Boulevard, Berkeley, CA 94705
Date: Mondays, September 30 – November 4, 2019
Time: 7:30 – 9:00 pm
Tuition: $315 General Public | $225 NCSPP Full Members
 $200 NCSPP CMH Members | $180 NCSPP Associate Members
 $135 NCSPP Student Members | $135 Scholarship Rate (approval required)

In 1926, 44-year-old Melanie Klein left Berlin for England where she embarked upon the most creative period of her life. There, Klein established a new theoretical school, pioneered a psychoanalytic treatment for children, influenced extraordinarily creative colleagues, and broke new ground using psychoanalytic concepts to work with individuals suffering with borderline and psychotic conditions.

Building on the foundation laid by Freud, Melanie Klein’s focus on early mental life lead her to an awareness of a powerful primitive phantasy life that underpinned all mental activity, shaping one’s sense of self, relationships to others, and one’s sense of the world. Klein’s groundbreaking work on the centrality of unconscious phantasy, the role of internal object relations, and the significance of the instincts lead her to be understood as both an innovator and a radical.

This course is an introduction to Melanie Klein’s theoretical and clinical concepts, and to contemporary Kleinian clinical work.

WORKING TOGETHER IN COMMUNITY: Consultation Groups for CMH Clinicians

Consultation Group

Session I:
Instructor: Monika Telichowska, Psy.D.
Dates | Time: Every other Tuesday, 6:00 – 7:30 pm
 (October through January)
Session II:
Instructor: German Cheung, Psy.D.
Dates | Time: Every other Thursday, 4:00 – 5:30 pm
 (February through May)
Location: Private Office, SF and/or virtual
Tuition: $380 CMH General Public | $190 NCSPP CMH Members

The frenetic pace of agency work in community mental health makes it difficult to find time and space to think deeply about our work. With the pressures of documentation requirements, community trauma, and limited resources, these demands overshadow clinical thinking. In response to the needs of our community, NCSPP is providing an additional forum to reflect on our clinical work.

This consultation group will process clinical work by licensed or unlicensed employees of county-funded or non-profit CMH agencies, and will be led by seasoned clinicians who have experience in community settings. The groups will meet approximately every other week and be held at the consultants offices or virtually.

BION: Reverie, Containment, and the Clinical Process

Course

Instructor: Scott Lines, Ph.D.
CE: 6 CE Credits
Location: St. Clement’s Episcopal Church
 2837 Claremont Boulevard, Berkeley, CA 94705
Date: Tuesdays, October 8 – 29, 2019
Time: 7:30 – 9:00 pm
Tuition: $210 General Public | $150 NCSPP Full Members
 $135 NCSPP CMH Members | $120 NCSPP Associate Members
 $90 NCSPP Student Members | $90 Scholarship Rate (approval required)

This course will examine the development of the radical intersubjectivity contained within Bion’s “Theory of Thinking,” his groundbreaking 1962 paper formally introducing two-person psychology, which reoriented psychoanalytic theory toward today’s intersubjective perspective. Drawing from Freud’s (1911) “Formulations on Two Principles of Mental Functioning,” Bion postulated two possibilities open to humans from infancy onward — thinking or projective identification — placing early parenting in the pivotal role of shaping the individual’s capacity to think or project. All of Bion’s later work revolved around the central question of the mechanisms whereby the individual can safely dwell in one’s own mind, beginning first by seeking refuge in the minds of primary caretakers through “normal” projective identification, and then by internalizing this capacity for reflective thinking — “alpha function.” We shall read works by Freud and Bion, with an eye toward phenomena in the consulting rooms of instructor and course participants.

12TH ANNUAL PSYCHOANALYTIC COUPLE PSYCHOTHERAPY EVENT

PROMOTING SELF-OBJECT EXPERIENCE BETWEEN PARTNERS: The Application of Self Psychology and Related Theories to Couple Psychotherapy

Sponsored By: NCSPP & PCPG
(The Psychoanalytic Couple Psychotherapy Group)

Instructor: Carla Leone, Ph.D.

Discussant: Rachel Cooke, Psy.D.

CE: 5.5 CE credits

Location: David Brower Center
2150 Allston Way, Berkeley, CA 94704

Date: Saturday, October 26, 2019

Time: 9:00 am – 3:30 pm

Tuition: $210 General Public | $160 NCSPP Full Members & PCPG Members
$90 NCSPP CMH Members | $90 NCSPP Associate Members
$40 NCSPP Student Members | $40 Scholarship Rate (approval required)

NCSPP and PCPG are pleased to host Dr. Carla Leone, who will be addressing how one thinks and works with couples through the lens of Self Psychology. She will ask the question: How does a couple promote a connection that helps each member of the couple consolidate and maintain a positive, vitalized sense of themselves as individuals within the couple?

Dr. Leone will pay particular attention to the ways in which a self psychologist listens to the couple, honing in on what partners are needing and seeking from the other. By focusing on the state of the self, narcissistic injury, and the rupture and repair sequence, Dr. Leone tracks each member of the couple, assessing and interpreting based on their self-object experiences. She will elaborate her understanding of the concept of self-object experience and the ways in which capacities and characteristics of individuals and couples either foster or interfere with mutual self-object experience, including each partner's sense of self, emotion regulation, and mentalization abilities. Other concepts and ideas that will be addressed include empathic immersion, attuned responsiveness, close attention to narcissistic vulnerability, the rupture and repair sequence, and collaborative, experience-near interpretation.

Dr. Rachel Cooke will act as discussant. In the afternoon, Dr. Leone will present case material in a creative format that will "act out" the clinical hour by having people play the roles of each of the partners in the couple.

This event will be available for live streaming; see website for details.

FALL MOVIE MATINEE

Social

Film: Clouds of Sils Maria

Instructor: Diane Borden, Ph.D.

Location: Spark Arts
4229 18th Street, San Francisco, CA 94114

Date: Sunday, October 20, 2019

Time: 12:00 – 4:00 pm

Fee: $18 General Public | $15 NCSPP Members

Join the PLC and Dr. Diane Borden for a screening and discussion of the 2014 film Clouds of Sils Maria, a French-German-Swiss co-production set in Sils Maria, Switzerland, starring Juliette Binoche, Kristen Stewart, and Chloë Grace Moretz. Following the screening, Dr. Borden will discuss the film's themes through a psychoanalytic and depth orientation, including aging and the acceptance of life changes, the impact of technology on human relationships, merging and separation of identity, and transformative retreat in the sublime and in the setting of the Swiss Alps. Popcorn will be served. (The technological difficulties encountered during the last movie matinee have been resolved in this new venue.)

Time: 7:00 – 9:00 pm

Fee: $18 General Public | $15 NCSPP Members

NCSPP's Pre-licensed Clinicians Committee invites you to the 22nd in a series of conversations with senior clinicians in the field of depth psychology. Join your colleagues for a stimulating evening of food, wine, and conversation with Dr. Karim Dajani, an immigrant psychoanalyst and instructor at SFCP. Dr. Dajani is deeply interested in the relationship between the individual and the collective. He has written about the various ways culture structures the unconscious and its role in shaping perception, thinking, and feeling. He is committed to expanding the scope of psychoanalysis, to addressing cultural and collective problems, and to applying psychoanalytic ideas to issues of social justice.

RELATIONAL SUPERVISION IN SOCIOCULTURAL CONTEXT

Workshop

Instructor: Terri Rubinstein, Ph.D., LMFT
CE: 6 CE Credits
Location: St. John's Presbyterian Church
 2727 College Avenue, Berkeley, CA 94705
Date: Saturday, November 16, 2019
Time: 9:00 am – 4:00 pm
Tuition: $210 General Public | $150 NCSPP Full Members
 $135 NCSPP CMH Members | $120 NCSPP Associate Members
 $90 NCSPP Student Members | $90 Scholarship Rate (approval required)

This course focuses on the use of self — both psychologically and socioculturally. It frames supervision as a mutual endeavor between two socioculturally located, and therefore conditioned, participants that impact one another and the supervisee's work, both consciously and unconsciously. Every human relationship contains the possibility of shame, envy, competition, negation, and conscious and unconscious power dynamics. These feelings and dynamics surface in the transference-countertransference within the supervisee's work as a therapist and between the supervisory dyad or group. The use of self-inquiry, compassion, and cultural humility in examining these patterns is demonstrated and explored in this seminar-style course.

SCREEN RELATIONS: From Wishful Thinking to Research-Informed Decisions

Workshop

Instructor: Gillian Isaacs Russell, Ph.D., NCPsyA, and Amber Trotter, Psy.D.
CE: 3 CE Credits
Location: San Francisco Center for Psychoanalysis (SFCP)
 444 Natoma Street, San Francisco, CA 94103
Date: Saturday, November 23, 2019
Time: 1:00 – 4:00 pm
Tuition: $60 General Public | $45 NCSPP Full Members
 $35 NCSPP CMH Members | $35 NCSPP Associate Members
 $25 NCSPP Student Members | $25 Scholarship Rate (approval required)

This course offers an in-depth empirical perspective on technology-mediated therapy. It is designed to help clinicians work more effectively with clients using technology, as well as to better understand the limitations of technology-mediated therapy, the nature of Presence, and the significance of embodied relating. The gains and losses of technologically mediated treatment will be assessed via clinical experience and current research, including in fields outside of psychoanalytic psychotherapy, such as computer/human interaction and neuroscience. Sociopolitical factors will also be considered. This event will be available for live streaming; see website for details.

NCSPP HOLIDAY PARTY

Social

Location: Private Home, San Francisco
Date: Friday, December 6, 2019
Time: 6:30 – 9:30 pm
Fee: Free NCSPP Members

All NCSPP members are invited to celebrate another year of provocative programs, classes, and events, at our Annual Holiday Party. Mingle with new and old NCSPP friends and toast with us in style. The community service award and the student paper award will be announced at the party. Wine and hors d'oeuvres will be served.

Paul U. Alexander, Ph.D., practices psychoanalysis, psychotherapy, and consultation with individuals, couples, and small groups. He teaches in post-graduate programs in the San Francisco Bay Area and consults on group processes in private practice and institutional settings.

Diane Borden, Ph.D., is Professor Emerita of Film, Literature, and Psychoanalysis at the University of the Pacific. She has published books, chapters, and journal articles on cinema and psychoanalysis and conducts a study group on film and psychoanalysis in San Francisco. Dr. Borden has been guest faculty at SFCP/SFPI, formerly chaired the Board of Trustees at SFCP, and currently sits on the NCSPP faculty. She has a special interest in trauma, perversion, and group process.

Margo Chapin, MFT, is a faculty member and a supervising and training analyst at SFCP. Ms. Chapin has a private practice in Oakland, and she leads several ongoing study groups for clinicians in the Bay Area.

Rachel Cooke, Psy.D., is a clinical psychologist in private practice in Oakland and San Francisco. A founding member of the Psychoanalytic Couple Psychotherapy Group (PCPG), she has taught courses in psychoanalytic couple therapy at various training programs in the Bay Area. Her discussion of Stanley Ruzsyczynski's paper, "Couples on the Couch," is published in a book of the same name (Routledge, 2017), edited by PCPG colleagues Shelley Nathans and Milton Schaefer. Dr. Cooke sees couples and individuals and provides consultation.

German Cheung, Psy.D., is a bilingual and bicultural psychologist and works psychoanalytically with children and adults in private practice. He trained at Richmond Area Multi-Services, Inc. (RAMS), where for eight years he supervised trainees, post-doctoral candidates, and staff. Dr. Cheung also provides clinical consultation for therapists and organizations in the Bay Area and Hong Kong.

Karim G. Dajani, Psy.D., MFT, is a clinical psychologist and psychoanalyst in private practice with a specialization in treating bicultural individuals. His research and writing include publications on psychological resilience and on culture, where, his work examines the role culture plays in determining an individual's role within a collective, and on the experience of cultural dislocation.

Diane Donnelly, Ph.D., is a psychologist and psychoanalyst on SFCP's faculty. She practices in San Francisco and Marin where she sees adults and children. In 2012, she received JAPA's New Author Prize for her paper "The Function of Suffering as Portrayed in The Scarlet Letter and Reflected in Clinical Work."

Diane Ehrensaft, Ph.D., is a developmental and clinical psychologist, associate professor of Pediatrics at UCSF, and Director of Mental Health of the Child and Adolescent Gender Center, UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital. She specializes in research, clinical work, training, and consultation related to gender expansive children, and publishes and lectures both nationally and internationally on this topic.

Dianne Elise, Ph.D., personal and supervising analyst and faculty at PINC, has served on the editorial boards of Journal of the American Psychoanalytic Association and Studies in Gender & Sexuality. She has elaborated her 2018 fort da essay on a Winnicottian field theory into a book of her papers, Creativity and the Erotic dimensions of the Analytic Field (Routledge, 2019).

Betsy Kassoff, Ph.D., is a psychologist and psychoanalyst in San Francisco. She provides services and teaches at a number of community mental health sites and graduate programs. Dr. Kassoff sees individuals and couples in her private practice, provides consultation, supervises, teaches, and writes on the intersection of relational psychoanalysis and the sociopolitical.

Brian Kuennemeier, Psy.D., completed his doctorate at the Wright Institute. His training has included work with a variety of populations throughout the Bay Area, but has primarily focused on the LGBTQ+ and HIV-positive communities. He is currently completing his postdoctoral fellowship in an integrated health psychology setting providing brief treatment to underserved communities in Contra Costa County.

Carla Leone, Ph.D., is the director of North Suburban Family Psychologists, in Lincolnwood, Illinois, and is on the faculty of the Institute for Clinical Social Work in Chicago. She is an elected member of the governing council of the International Association of Psychoanalytic Self Psychology (IAPSP), Co-Chair of IAPSP's Membership Committee, and Chair and Co-founder of that organization's Couples Therapy Interest Group. Author of several published papers on couple and family therapy as well as the "unseen spouse" of patients in individual therapy, Dr. Leone is currently working on a book, tentatively titled Rebuilding Connections, Repairing Ruptures: A Self Psychological Couple Therapy Casebook, to be published by Routledge.

Scott Lines, Ph.D., is a psychoanalyst and forensic psychologist in Berkeley, graduate of PINC, past president of NCSPP, and clinical faculty at CIIS, Access Institute, CPMC, TPI. Current writing includes malignant narcissism, a memoir of alcoholism in the family, and a musical theater piece on Jim Jones and Jonestown.

Paula Mandel, Ph.D., is a clinical psychologist and psychoanalyst and a graduate of PINC. She supervises and teaches at numerous Bay Area training sites. Dr. Mandel presented her paper, "Time and the Body: Managing Longing Through the Manipulation of Time," at the 2017 IPA conference in Buenos Aires as the North American finalist for the Tyson Prize.

Audrey Martin, MFT, is a psychoanalytic psychotherapist in private practice in San Francisco and Berkeley, where she sees adults and adolescents. Audrey has been involved as a preschool mental health consultant, and served as the former Training Director of the Master's Level Intern Program at the McAuley Institute, Adolescent Inpatient and Outpatient units.

Deborah Melman, Ph.D., is on the faculty at the Wright Institute, PINC, and SFCP. She has a private practice in Berkeley.

Terri Rubinstein, Ph.D., LMFT, is a psychotherapist and consultant in private practice in Berkeley. She supervises and teaches at The Psychotherapy Institute and is on the Supervision Study Program faculty. She has published and taught continuing education courses on relational psychotherapy, clinical supervision, couple therapy, and alienation.

Gillian Isaacs Russell, Ph.D., NCPsyA, a UK-trained psychoanalyst, is a member of the American Psychoanalytic Association, the International Psychoanalytical Association, and the British Psychoanalytic Council. Her book, Screen Relations: The Limits of Computer-Mediated Psychoanalysis and Psychotherapy, was published by Karnac Books in 2015. Dr. Russell writes, speaks, and teaches internationally on technology and its impact on intimate human relationships, particularly in psychoanalytic treatment. She currently practices in Boulder, Colorado.

Monika Telichowska, Psy.D., has worked extensively with children, adolescents, and adults in individual, group, and family psychotherapy. Dr. Telichowska has a passion for working with clients who are traditionally underserved and applies an integrated approach in her work, informed by relational, intersubjective, socio-cultural, developmental, trauma, and attachment theories.

Amber Trotter, Psy.D., completed her training at the CIIS and Access Institute. She thinks and writes about technology and psychoanalysis, including Living Dreams or Dreaming Nightmares published this fall in fort da. The author of the forthcoming Psychoanalysis's Edge: An Inquiry into Psychoanalysis as a Subversive Phenomenon (Lexington Books) and founding editor at Damage Magazine, she is in private practice in San Francisco.

Tom Wooldridge, Psy.D., ABPP is a psychoanalyst, board-certified clinical psychologist, and associate professor at Golden Gate University. He has published two books: Understanding Anorexia Nervosa in Males and Psychoanalytic Treatment of Eating Disorders (Relational Perspectives Book Series), in addition to numerous articles on a wide range of topics. He is in private practice in Berkeley.

Returned Checks: A $25 bank charge and an additional $15 administrative charge will be issued on all returned checks.

Continuing Education Credits: Please see individual course|event listings for number of CE credits awarded, if applicable. Courses offering CE credit meet the requirements for CE credit for LCSWs, MFTs, and Psychologists. Upon completion of a course evaluation form, a CE certificate will be issued. This serves as documentation of attendance for all participants.

LCSWs/MFTs: Courses meet the requirements for CE credit, as required by the CA Board of Behavioral Sciences, through CAMFT (Provider #57020).

Psychologists: Division 39 is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. Division 39 maintains responsibility for these programs and their content.

Scholarship Information: We have established the NCSPP Scholarship Fund to broaden community access to our events by subsidizing the greater part of our tuition costs for a limited number of attendees. For information regarding eligibility and availability, contact Michele McGuinness.

Disabilities: NCSPP, CAMFT, and Division 39 are committed to accessibility and non-discrimination in its continuing education activities. If participants have special needs, we will attempt to accommodate them. If you have concerns about handicapped accessibility, please contact Michele McGuinness.

Privacy and Confidentiality: All participants are asked to be aware of the need for privacy and confidentiality throughout all programs.

NCSPP, CAMFT and Division 39 are committed to conducting all activities in conformity with the American Psychological Association's Ethical Principles for Psychologists. Participants are asked to be aware of the need for privacy and confidentiality throughout the program. If program content becomes stressful, participants are encouraged to process these feelings during discussion periods. Please address questions, concerns and any complaints to Michele McGuinness.

Participants will be informed of the utility/validity of the content/approach discussed (including the basis for the statements about validity/utility), as well as the limitations of the approach and most common (and severe) risks, if any, associated with the program's content.

Commercial Support: There is no commercial support for NCSPP programs nor are there any relationships between the CE Sponsor, presenting organization, presenter, program content, research, grants, or other funding that could reasonably be construed as conflicts of interest.

The Northern California Society for Psychoanalytic Psychology (NCSPP) is the local Chapter of Division 39, American Psychological Association. NCSPP is committed to the study of psychoanalytic psychology and the encouragement of its interests in the professional and general communities. It is a multidisciplinary, nonprofit educational membership organization open to all mental health professionals.
